Rules and Regulations

Registration and Contractual Agreement:

- Registration serves as an official rental contract between the organizer and the exhibitor, signifying the exhibitor's commitment to full compliance with the terms and conditions.
- Full participation fees are due upon registration confirmation.
- Co-exhibitors are not allowed without the confirmation of the organizer and payment of the applicable fee. Failure to adhere to this requirement may result in fines imposed by the organizer.
- Any changes to the terms and conditions are communicated exclusively by the organizer to the exhibitor.
- The exhibitor may not lease, sell, waive, or share any part of the leased space without written consent from the organizer.
- Exhibitors must occupy allocated space at least 36 hours before the exhibition's opening day.
- Failure to comply empowers the organizer to reallocate the space as deemed appropriate.
- The organizer exclusively determines the layout and placement of spaces based on the exhibition hall's total area and the nature of exhibited items.
- Items may not be raised or withdrawn during the exhibition duration.
- A detailed list of exhibited items must be submitted for approval to the organizer at least one month before the opening day of the exhibition.
- The organizer reserves the right to refuse approval for items that violate local laws or fail to meet exhibition standards.
- Exhibitors are strictly prohibited from engaging in the sale of exhibited items within the exhibition premises. Violation of this rule may result in penalties imposed by the organizer.
- Exhibitors cannot remove exhibited materials until full participation fees, additional service fees, and a clearance document are settled.
- Exhibitors must adhere to all rules and regulations set forth by the exhibition venue, including any policies related to health and safety, accessibility, and environmental considerations.
- The exhibitor is responsible for ensuring that booth staff is knowledgeable about the products/services on display and conducts themselves professionally. The organizer may restrict access to individuals not complying with these standards.
- All promotional activities within the exhibition hall must comply with the organizer's guidelines. The use of loudspeakers, music, or any other potentially disruptive promotional methods may require prior approval.
- Booth construction is exclusively assigned to the organizer of the exhibition. Exhibitors are not permitted to engage alternative third-party contractors for booth construction or additional services. All relevant contact details and agreements related to booth construction must be coordinated through the organizer's agent (BRP Co.), ensuring compliance with all terms and conditions.
- A list of items that are strictly prohibited within the exhibition hall, including hazardous materials, weapons, or any items that may pose a threat to public safety.
- Exhibitors should seek permission from the organizer before engaging in any photography or filming within the exhibition hall. The organizer may have specific guidelines regarding media coverage.
